Passengers Leave for Skagway.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 24.—The steamer

Portland will probably arrive tomorrow, being reported off Cape Flattery tonight. Lookouts have been posted all the way to the mouth of the straits to report the first sight of the steamer, and the populace is ready to go wild with enthusiasm when she arrives.

A large party of newspaper men left by steamer City of Seattle for Port Townsend tonight. They expected to intercept the Portland with a tug, but are rather late in starting. Thick weather, caused by fog and smoke, makes the chances about even that they may miss the treasure ship.

A NEW ROUTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—A new route is to be established to the placer fields of the Klondyke. The journey will be made from this city to Wrangle, where a steamer will be taken up the Stickeen River, a distance of seventy miles. From that point to Lake

Teslin the trip will be made by stage.

Lake Teslin is at the head of Hootal-lake River, and from there a steamer will ply on the Lewis and Yukon rivers to Dawson City, a distance of 450 miles.

The stage line will be owned and managed by John Allman, the well-known stage proprietor. He will place

ten coaches and one hundred horses on the road. The fare for the staging is to be $1 a mile for passengers.

THE STEAMER LIST.

SEATTLE (Wash.), Aug. 24.—The steamer Rosalie departed this evening for Skagway with about one hundred passengers and a full load of horses and supplies for miners. She took also a number of wagons to break the famine for them at the pass.

Schooner Moonlight had most of her deck load of lumber removed today,

and will get away with her sixty passengers tonight. The steamers Willamette, Utopia, Edith and Topeka, and schooner Rapid Transit are expected from Skagway tonight or early tomorrow. The Willamette and the Rapid

Transit are overdue several days.

Great interest is shown in the expected arrival of the Portland, and all sorts of speculation as to the probable amount of gold she will bring is heard.

Two Young Women-Prospectors for

Trinity County Disappear.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, Aug. 24.—Miss Bessie

Gallagher of Alameda and Miss Carrie

Waddell of San Francisco have gone to Trinity county upon a prospecting tour.

The young women are equipped with a complete miner's outfit, including tents, picks, shovels, pans, scales and sticks of giant powder. They have provisions sufficient for three months.

Miss Waddell had had experience in the mines, and both young women are determined to work hard to find a paying claim.

TUMBLED DOWN A CLIFF.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), Aug. 24.—

News has just been received here of the disappearance of a prospector named

Blackman, who, with three other prospectors from San Francisco, Seattle and

Colorado, was at Butte Inlet, about one hundred and fifty miles up the coast. They were going along steep cliff, Blackman being ahead and the others following. They called to him if the way was clear. He replied he would see. That was the last heard of him. It is supposed he tumbled down the side of the cliff. The body was not recovered. Blackman was a physician and psychologist from California.

CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE.

OTTAWA (Ont.), Aug. 24.—The Minister of the Interior has left for a brief holiday on the Atlantic Coast, but before his departure he reached a most important decision. It was to the effect that a small detachment of mounted police should at his property from Edmonton, Alberta, and endeavor to reach the Klondyke country from the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains.

Edmonton is the most northerly railroad point in the Canadian Northwest

Territory, being 190 miles north of Calgary. The route to be followed is by the way of the Nelson and Lar river to the Deaf, and up this river to the Pelly. They will follow the Pelly

River to its junction with the Lees, and the Lees to the Klondyke, a total of 1370 miles. This is not the Mackenzie river route. As the police are to take horses with them, it is obvious that the authorities consider this route practicable, or, at any rate, is worth examining.

ARKELL SELLING SHARES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—W. J. Arkell, who claims a large portion of the Alaska mining region, has made a deal for the sale of a part of his property to a syndicate. Chauncey M. Depew is said to be a member of the syndicate which has bought Mr. Arkell's land, and also a slice of Joseph La-due's holding in Dawson City. Besides Mr. Depew, H. Walter Webb and other Vanderbilt directors are reputed members of the new company.

FORT MAUDE TAKEN.

BRITISH FORCES DEFEATED IN KHYBER PASS.

Desperate Fighting Put Up by the Afghans at That Point and at All Musted.

LATTER PLACE REPORTED LOST.

THREE HUNDRED SEPOYS KILLED BY THE ASSAILANTS.

Gen. Ellis to Begin a Concerted Move Against the Insurgents. The Situation Very Grave. Pathan Demands.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] An official dispatch received from Simla states that Fort Maude in Khyber Pass, has been captured by Afghans, after desperate fighting, and burned. The fate of Fort All Musted, simultaneously attacked, is not known. Gen. Ellis will begin a concerted move against the insurgent tribes today.

MASSACRE OF SEPOYS.

PESHAWAR, Aug. 24.—It is reported that a large number of Afghans, led by fanatical priests, attacked the Sepoys near Fort All Musted at noon yesterday, massacring 300, capturing their rifles, and then proceeding in large forces to make an attack upon the British garrison on the Lowgarat.

There is a very uneasy feeling in Quetta, where the troops are under orders to be in readiness to march to Newchamol, which is the extreme outpost of the Afghan frontier outpost of Khandahar, and on the edge of the Registan Desert, between the provinces of Toiba and Peshin.

GRAVES OF NEWS.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—It is admitted, even in official circles, that the news from India is of the gravest description. All those who are familiar with the situation attach the greatest importance to the rising of the Afghans, who, it is estimated, can muster 35,000 men. The Afghans, however, only form a part of the insurgents.

A letter from India, published in the Standard, emphasizes the belief that the Sultan of Turkey is at the back of the whole uprising. The Afghans are reported to be very angry at what they term the Marquis of Salisbury's bad diplomacy.

INDIGNANT SIKHS.

BOMBAY, Aug. 24.—The bridges in the Upper Punjab are strictly guarded by troops. It is reported that when the Mohammedans attacked Fort Shabakar they burned all the sacred books of the Sikhs temple there. This excited the greatest indignation among the Sikhs throughout the province, and the Sikh troops on the frontier are greatly incensed.

FORT JEWANGERA ABANDONED.

SIMLA, Aug. 24.—Later details of the capture of Fort Maude by the insurgent tribesmen show that the garrison of that place retired at 5:30 o'clock yesterday, and the fort was burned half an hour later. The garrison reached Col. Wesmaccott's relief column coming from Kohat at 11:30 o'clock.

At the same time that Fort Maude was abandoned, the Khyber Rifles garrisoning Fort Jewangera were compelled to abandon that place. The area of active fighting is enlarging rapidly.

The Afghans last evening attacked with great determination the fortified post at Sudda, but were not successful in capturing it.

Parichonar was attacked today. The result of the attack on the fortified post at Sudda, but were not successful in capturing it. The British garrisoning Parichonar, however, were not attacked. There are two English ladies with the garrisoned at Parichonar.

The British garrisoning Parichonar, however, were not attacked. There are two English ladies with the garrisoned at Parichonar.

PATHAN DEMANDS.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Simla, dated Tuesday evening, says: "The Afghans have not ventured upon active hostilities today, but have remained in the hills about Khairbar, where for the present they are practically safe from attack. One of the Pathan tribes has had the audacity to suggest the terms under which they would agree to disperse to their homes. These were the withdrawal of troops from Swat and from the Saman range; the surrender of all the Afghani women living within our border, and the revision of the salt regulations. They do not seem to realize that their rising must inevitably lead to a complete breaking down of their power as the dominant clan on the Peshawar frontier."

A special dispatch from Bombay says there is an unconfirmed rumor in circulation that the Afghans have attacked Fort All Musted with great determination. The garrison made a sortie in full force, endeavoring to disperse them, but met with a desperate resistance and lost 300 killed. The remainder of the garrison then abandoned the post, and made its way to the station of the Lowgarat.

The rumor that 300 of the government force were killed at Fort All Musted lacks confirmation. The garrison was composed of Afghans, with Afghani officers. If, as one reporter says, they died fighting desperately, it may be regarded as proof of the continued loyalty of the Afghans in the Indian army.

Mirabai is a well-known frontier chief. In 1880, during a period of similar discontent, he proclaimed himself King of Tirah, and began to raise and drill an army. But he became unpopular through imposition of taxes and his influence gradually melted away.

UNIFORM DIVORCE LAW.

A Draft of the Bill Gotten Up at Cleveland, O.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CLEVELAND (O.), Aug. 24.—At the meeting today of the Uniform Law Committee, a creation of the National Bar Association, John C. Richberg of Chicago, as chairman, of a special committee appointed for the purpose, reported a draft of a divorce bill for adoption in all the States, to be submitted to the National Bar Association. If the association approves of it, the members will urge its adoption by their different State legislatures. The bill is modeled after the divorce law in force in the District of Columbia, which of necessity was drawn by committees of Congress which represent the entire country.

The belief is generally expressed by members of the committee that the bill will be approved by the National Bar Association, in which event systematic efforts will be made to have it adopted in all the States.

Archbishop Keane's Appointment.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—[Special Dispatch.] A Herald cable from Rome says that it is reported that Archbishop Keane has been appointed Archbishop of New Orleans.

OCEAN RATE WAR.

Atty.-Gen. McKenna Has Something to Say About It.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

HOUSTON, (Tex.), Aug. 24.—A special joint meeting tonight of the Deep Water Utilization Company, the Wholesale Dealers Association and the Chamber of Commerce to take action in regard to the ocean-rate war and advise means for the bringing of the fight to an end, a letter written by the Railroad Commissioner was produced by Judge E. Mann, but out of courtesy to the commissioner and Attorney-General McKenna, to whom it was addressed, the communication was withheld from the press. "The gist of the letter is that the Attorney-General of the United States has instructed one of his district attorneys to bring injunction proceedings against the Mallory and Morgan lines, restraining them from carrying freight for less than cost of transportation."

CONGRESSMEN COMING.

A Party to Attend the Mare Island Presentation.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A party of Congressmen with a citizens' committee from Wheeling, W. Va., will leave here tonight for San Francisco, where the Wheeling committee will present a silver service to the gunboat Wheeling, now about completed at the Mare Island navy yard. The party will be in charge of Congressman Dwyer of West Virginia. The presentation will take place September 2, and the party expects to be gone about three weeks. They will return via the Northern Pacific.

DOES HE SAVVY THE GAME?

Officer McGraw Tells a Jury What He Knows About Fan Tan.

A horde of pigtailed celestials were again in evidence about the Police Station yesterday, the occasion being the trial of Ah Jack and Quong Queng on the charge of conducting a fan tan game. Attorneys Davis & Rush, for the defense facilitated progress by not being too particular in the selection of jurymen. The result was that a jury was impaneled in the remarkable short time of two and a half hours.

The greater portion of the day was taken up with the testimony of Officer McGraw who led the raid of the game in which the prosecution is based. He rests with Officer McGraw to prove that a game of chance was being played, and while there is not much doubt on that point, the attorneys for the defense have put the officer to his wit's end to describe the game minutely enough to show that it was fan tan, requires the expert testimony of a doer to do this successfully, and as McGraw does not profess to be an expert, it is problematical what the outcome of the case will be.

Several of the witnesses and several other witnesses are in reserve to tell what they know about fan tan in general and this game in particular. The officers expect to get between them and they will be able to convince the jury that Ah Jack and his gang were violating the law.

The jury were taken to Chinatown at the adjournment of court yesterday evening to view the place where the game was broken up and to get a few pointers on the manner in which the celestials fortify themselves when they sit down to gamble with one another. The trial will be resumed this evening and will probably outlast the day.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Against Commissioner Rust.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24, 1897.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An item in the San Bernardino correspondence of the Times of Monday proves that the nurserymen of this county were justified in asking for the removal of Mr. Rust from the Horticultural Commission. The item is as follows: "The Horticultural Commissioner of this county has decided not to recognize the nurserymen of E. H. Rust of Los Angeles county when it is attached to fruit trees or nursery stock, as the board here consider it of no value."

Mr. Rust has said publicly that Mr. Chisholm was responsible for the petition which is at present before the Board of Supervisors asking for his removal on these very grounds, that we, as nurserymen, would not get fair treatment while he remained on the commission. The Horticultural Commission, however, is a body of different counties, and it is hardly fair that the Board of Supervisors should ask the nurserymen of this county to sit idle, knowing that we cannot do any business in that county, and with the prospect of other county commissions doing likewise.

F. HUSTON.

Sergt. Morton Home.

Sergt. S. G. Morton returned from his vacation trip to Portland, Or., yesterday, and resumed his official duties last night. The sergeant had a pleasant reunion with three of his sisters during his absence. Two of them live in Portland, and the other at Napa. The latter accompanied him and Mrs. Morton to Portland and return.

Echoes of the Paris Holocaust.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—Baron Mackau, one of the chief promoters of the Charity Bazaar of the Rue Jean Goujon, which was destroyed by fire on May 1st last, with a loss of over a hundred lives, has been sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000. One of the employees of the cinematograph establishment, the section in which the fire broke out, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment and fined, and another employee was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine.

Greece's Indemnity Limit.

ATHENS, Aug. 25.—The British, Russian and French ministers to Greece have notified their respective governments that it is impossible for Greece to pay an indemnity exceeding $3,000,000 Turkish. It is understood that negotiations are on foot to induce Turkey to accept a smaller sum than the amount originally demanded. Lord Salisbury being willing that Turkey should retain up to Larissa-Trikhalia line as a pledge.

Bound to Shoot Somebody.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Otilie Kilrally, the divorced wife of a colonel of the Austrian army, and formerly a favorite actress in Vienna playhouses, apparently tried to shoot her Italian lover, Placido Salita, a produce merchant, and failing, shot herself through the right temple today.

Releasing Mortgages.

GREAT BEND (Kan.), Aug. 24.—The County Recorder has reported the release of over $50,000 in chattel and real-estate mortgages since August 1, and half of the crop has not been threshed. It is predicted that by the new year the county will be in better shape than ever before, and will look back on the largest acreage of wheat in the history of the county.

COULDN'T STAND IT.

CAPT. M. G. BOLTON PUTS AN END TO HIS TROUBLE.

The Los Angeles Electric Company Loses Another of Its Trusted Employees.

BLACKMAN'S FRIEND IS DEAD.

HE SHOT HIMSELF AND DIED ALMOST INSTANTLY.

The Suicide of the Book-Keeper Said to Be in No Way Due to the Defalcation of the Cashier.

"Dear Tom: I can't stand the racket. It may be all over with me by the time you get this. I am almost crazy."

So wrote Capt. M. G. Bolton to his lifelong friend, Thomas E. Beatty, yesterday morning. Between the writing of the note and its delivery only five minutes elapsed. In another five minutes Mr. Beatty was at his friend's bedside, only to find him breathing his last. Two minutes more and all was over with Capt. M. G. Bolton.

He died by his own hand, did this gallant ex-soldier who had faced death on a hundred battlefields in Afghanistan, in India and in Egypt. The Sahara's blighting heat, Indian famine and plague, Himalayan snows and attacks of savage foes he withstood unscathed, in the end to fill a suicide's grave.

Capt. Bolton shot himself at his lodgings at Pico Heights, yesterday morning. He was book-keeper of the consumers' department of the Los Angeles Electric Company, which is affiliated with the Los Angeles Lighting Company, and has offices in the same building, corner of Fifth street and Broadway.

The suicide, coming so close on the heels of the defalcation of W. R. Blackman, cashier of the same company, and an intimate friend of Capt. Bolton, created a great sensation. The hasty conclusion was formed that there must be some hidden fact between the two events; that Bolton must in some way have been implicated in Blackman's thievery, and that remorse or fear of exposure drove him to self-destruction.

According to the testimony given at the inquest and the statements of the officers of the Electric Company and all the associates of the dead man, there seems to be no reason whatever to couple the tragedy with the Blackman trouble. W. B. Cline, president of both the Lighting and the Electric Company, W. H. Burns, treasurer, and Thomas E. Beatty, collector, all unite in saying that Bolton's accounts are correct and do not think that fear of the outcome of the examination of his accounts had anything to do with Bolton's suicide.

The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Brazil's Coffee Crop.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Rio de Janeiro says the coffee crop promises to reach 10,000,000 bags, as against 8,000,000 last season.

Technical Phrase in Common Speech.

[Philadelphia Press:] It is greatly to be desired that intelligible to the popular mind would take the trouble to insert along with these terms an interpretation. When the writers in the English papers are dealing with the statistics of agriculture, they tell us that grain, at such a time, was sold at so many shillings a quarter. At 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning, Capt. Bolton told the housekeeper to serve his breakfast an hour later than usual, and at the same time gave her the note which he had written to his friend Mr. Beatty, whose home is about three blocks distant from the Chadwick residence. Mr. Beatty was at the house and just on the point of starting out when the note was handed to him. Thinking that his old friend was suffering more than usual, he went to his room and imagined himself dying. Mr. Beatty hastily drove over to the house. He arrived before the housekeeper and went direct to Bolton's apartments.

As Mr. Beatty entered the bedroom of his friend, a gory spectacle revealed itself. Capt. Bolton lay on his bed, with his life blood flowing from a ghastly wound in the right side of his head. His right hand, which lay limp across his breast, still clasped a revolver which told the tale. A piece of looking-glass lying on the bed in his left hand, showed that he used a mirror so that he could see that he aimed the weapon at a vital point. The muzzle of the pistol had evidently been shoved into the right ear. The bullet tore through the brain and lodged on the opposite side of the cranial cavity, just under the skull.

Poor Bolton was past all relief when Mr. Beatty arrived. He was entirely unconscious and in about two minutes his heart had ceased to beat.

Mr. Beatty advised the coroner's office of the tragedy as soon as possible, and Deputy Coroner Summerfield arrived at about 8:30 o'clock, to take charge of the remains, which he sent to Orr & Hines's morgue, where the inquest was held in the afternoon.

The only farewell message left by the dead man was the note to Mr. Beatty, and a scribble on a sheet of paper left on a table near the bed. It was addressed to no one and read simply, "Break the news gently to my people." President Cline says the report that Bolton wrote a farewell note to him is erroneous. He received no communication from him whatever. He did write the letter to Beatty before, and he posted them himself.

CASTORIA.

For Infants and Children.

The fact is, it is an every wrapper.

but to whom they were addressed is not known.

Two chambers of the revolver, which was of 38-caliber, were empty, but there was nothing to show that more than one shot had been fired in the room. It is possible that Bolton discharged the weapon once outdoors to see whether it was in working order. He was dressed only in a night shirt, a pair of trousers and slippers. All the evidence showed that he deliberately planned the suicide and sent the housekeeper away on purpose to carry it out.

At the inquest only two witnesses were examined, Mr. Beatty and Treasurer Burns of the Electric Company. The British testified. He served with the suicide already narrated, and Mr. Burns testified as to Bolton's accounts, which he said were all right so far as he knew, and he had no reason to suspect that he was in any wise a defaulter. The jury, on this showing, brought in a simple verdict of suicide by shooting. The Pacific Surety Company is Bolton's bondman for $300, and has received no notice that there is anything wrong in his accounts.

Mr. Beatty, who knew Capt. Bolton nearly all his life, says he was a native of county Wexford, Ireland. They were schoolmates in their boyhood days, and subsequently Bolton entered the British army. He served with distinction in the Afghan and Egyptian wars, and rose to the rank of captain. About ten years ago he resigned his commission and came to the United States, because his income was not large enough to live in the style that became a British officer.

Bolton entered the employ of the electric company eight years ago, and always enjoyed the confidence of his employers and associates. He was a distinguished appearance, courtly manner and much respected by his acquaintances. During the first few years of his residence in Los Angeles he figured somewhat in society, but lately he was retiring in his habits and associated only with a few chosen friends. He was 42 years old. He has remained in Ireland, but none in this country, so far as known.

W. R. Blackman, the defuncting cashier of the electric company, when apprised of Bolton's death, appeared at the inquest, and appeared greatly shocked. He exonerated the dead man of all connection with his own troubles. There must be some hidden fact between the two events, he believed. The investigation is not yet completed, but President Cline stated positively yesterday that so far all the accounts are correct and do not think that fear of the outcome of the examination of his accounts had anything to do with Bolton's suicide.

The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Brail's Coffee Crop.

Technical Phrase in Common Speech.

[Philadelphia Press:] It is greatly to be desired that intelligible to the popular mind would take the trouble to insert along with these terms an interpretation. When the writers in the English papers are dealing with the statistics of agriculture, they tell us that grain, at such a time, was sold at so many shillings a quarter. At 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning, Capt. Bolton told the housekeeper to serve his breakfast an hour later than usual, and at the same time gave her the note which he had written to his friend Mr. Beatty, whose home is about three blocks distant from the Chadwick residence. Mr. Beatty was at the house and just on the point of starting out when the note was handed to him. Thinking that his old friend was suffering more than usual, he went to his room and imagined himself dying. Mr. Beatty hastily drove over to the house. He arrived before the housekeeper and went direct to Bolton's apartments.

As Mr. Beatty entered the bedroom of his friend, a gory spectacle revealed itself. Capt. Bolton lay on his bed, with his life blood flowing from a ghastly wound in the right side of his head. His right hand, which lay limp across his breast, still clasped a revolver which told the tale. A piece of looking-glass lying on the bed in his left hand, showed that he used a mirror so that he could see that he aimed the weapon at a vital point. The muzzle of the pistol had evidently been shoved into the right ear. The bullet tore through the brain and lodged on the opposite side of the cranial cavity, just under the skull.

Poor Bolton was past all relief when Mr. Beatty arrived. He was entirely unconscious and in about two minutes his heart had ceased to beat.

Mr. Beatty advised the coroner's office of the tragedy as soon as possible, and Deputy Coroner Summerfield arrived at about 8:30 o'clock, to take charge of the remains, which he sent to Orr & Hines's morgue, where the inquest was held in the afternoon.

The only farewell message left by the dead man was the note to Mr. Beatty, and a scribble on a sheet of paper left on a table near the bed. It was addressed to no one and read simply, "Break the news gently to my people." President Cline says the report that Bolton wrote a farewell note to him is erroneous. He received no communication from him whatever. He did write the letter to Beatty before, and he posted them himself.

The Young Divorce Suit Still on in Judge Van Dyke's Court—Suit for Half a Million Against Redondo Beach Company.

The Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday at the City Hall. An investigation was ordered in the case of Officer Johnson, charged with being remiss in the discharge of his duty. A committee of the City Council took up the case of Boiler Inspector Church, who is charged with inefficiency and negligence. The work of footling the valuations of the Board of Equalization has been almost completed by the City Clerk.

Dick Earlston, charged with rape, was examined before Justice Young yesterday, and held in answer under bonds in the sum of $2500. Several witnesses were called to the stand by the prosecuting attorneys, among whom was Bula Minot, the complaining witness, and her parents.

The Young divorce suit occupied the entire of the afternoon. Several of the attorneys expect to submit the case today.

W. L. Granes has entered suit against the Redondo Beach Company for $600,021.70 on a mortgage covering all the company's real and personal property at Redondo Beach, in addition to the above sum, Graves sues for interest and $20,000 attorney's fees.

POLICE BOARD DEMANDS EXPLA-NATIONS OF OFFICER JOHNSON.No More Rebates of Saloon Licenses to Be Granted—Investigating the Charges Against the Boiler Inspector—Equalized Valuation of City Property.

The belief which sometimes seems to be entertained by police officers that a saloon-keeper is a being above the law and the saloon a sanctuary into which an officer may not intrude, received a blow yesterday morning at the meeting of the Police Board. Chief Glass had submitted a report from Officers Johnson and Tyler relative to a fight which occurred last Sunday morning at the "400" saloon on the corner of Main and Fourth streets. A message had been sent to the station from the Van Nuys Hotel saying that a fight was in progress at the saloon, and Officer Johnson was sent to the scene of the disturbance. According to his own statement, the fight was over when he arrived, and he was unable to get into the saloon. He asked Chief Glass whether in his opinion the officer had not been remiss in his duty, and upon receiving an affirmative reply, Mr. Gibson offered a motion that Officer Johnson should be suspended for ten days. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Preuss, and despite a protest from Commissioner Johnson, who thought the officer should be heard in his own defense, it was carried. Subsequently, at the request of Chief Glass, the motion was rescinded, and the officer was directed to appear at the next meeting of the board and explain his conduct.

Demands of H. P. Vignes, H. S. Paulin and J. G. Goodman, upon the Police Reward and Charity Fund, were approved.

Paul E. Flammer, one of the jailers at the Central Police Station, asked thirty days' leave of absence, which was granted.

James Mackel, who made an unsuccessful effort at the last meeting of the board, to transfer his saloon from the west to the east side of Spring street, between Third and Fourth, petitioned for a rebate of $250, on the ground that his business had been interrupted for five months by building operations. The rebate was granted upon condition that he surrender his license.

M. L. Polaski & Co. presented a request for a rebate of $250 paid as saloon license during the period from October 1, 1894, to February 15, 1895, on the ground that their business was interrupted by building operations. Similar petitions were received from Jerry Illich, for a rebate of $200, and from E. L. Maxwell for $188.18.

These petitions provoked some discussion as to the expediency of granting such rebates. All three cases were finally referred to Chief Glass to investigate. A motion was then offered to compel the proprietor to close his place, nor did he report the matter to the Chief. The case was referred to Chief Glass for investigation.

Some time was devoted to a discussion of the present mode of uniforming the police force. It was suggested that if the board should purchase the material in large quantities, the men would have much better material for their uniforms at lower cost. This plan has proved very satisfactory in San Francisco. The matter was referred for investigation to a committee consisting of Commissioners Gibbon, McLean and Preuss and Chief Glass.

THE INSPECTOR INSPECTED.

Investigation of the Charges Against Church.

The Boiler Inspector was thoroughly inspected yesterday evening. Pursuant to the resolution adopted by the Council last Monday, the special boiler committee, the board of examining engineers, Boiler Inspector Church and his deputy, Mr. Little, met in the Council chamber. A number of engineers were also present. The examination occupied some two hours and was rather barren of results. It was evident that personal feeling enters quite largely into the differences of the Boiler Inspector and the Board of Engineers.

A communication was presented which was signed by a large number of engineers and drillers asking for the abolition of the Board of Engineers, and that they be succeeded by the Boiler Inspector and his deputy. Frank Rademacher, one of the Board of Engineers, stated that this document was drawn up in the City Hall with the approval. If not at the instigation, of the Boiler Inspector, it was at least suggested by him. The refusal of the Boiler Inspector to enter upon the minutes of the board a resolution reflecting discredit upon himself, Rademacher employed as engineer in Maler & Zobelet's brewery, and took offense at a notice sent to him by the Boiler Inspector, relative to the inspection of the boiler. The other two members of the board, Messrs. Rademacher's cause, and instructed Church to forward a letter to Maler & Zobelet, the notice. Church was also instructed to spread the letter upon the minutes of the board. Church, who asserts that he was merely discharging his duty in sending the notice, refused to do so, and the reflection cast upon him and refused to obey the board's direction.

Church was questioned at some length about the petition for the abolition of the Board of Engineers, but denied that he was responsible for it. He read a typewritten statement alleging irregularities in the action of the Board of Engineers, none of these charges, however, being relevant to the purpose of the investigation. He charged that Church had made only a part of the inspections that should have been made. Church insisted that he had made all the inspections that should have been made, and that his deputy had made all inspections due, with the possible exception of ten or twelve. As to the charge that the inspections were not properly made, Church said that in a large number of cases internal inspection of boilers was impossible. The man-holes were frequently too small to allow of an ordinary size to enter them. Church said that he couldn't get through a man-hole that is less than nine by four inches. The two of the members of the Board of Engineers measure about twenty feet in circumference, this defense might have been expected to carry some force.

A protracted and tedious debate ensued concerning Church's alleged shortcomings, and several engineers who were present took part in the discussion.

The committee having the investigation in hand finally took the whole matter under advisement, without action.

Valuations Nearly Completed.

The footings of the valuations made by the Board of Equalization will be completed this morning. All but one of the books covering the original city limits have been footed and they show a reduction from the City Assessor's figures of $552,150. The reduction in the annexed territory will be approximately $650,000. These figures indicate that when the two are finally completed, the total reduction from the City Assessor's valuations will be about a million and a quarter. As his total valuation was $60,100,000, the changes made by the Board of Equalization will bring the total slightly below $59,000,000.

TROUBLES OF GUE TING.

Likely to Be Ended by a Compromise.

Little Gue Ting was in court yesterday, waiting patiently for whatever fate should be meted out to her at the hands of Commissioner Van Dyke, and representatives of the rival factions of Quon and Wong were there, too. The former air of suppressed hostility seemed to have been smoothed down to at least outward amiability, and when the case was called the lawyers asked for a continuance until next Tuesday, as evidence had been discovered which might lead to a compromise between the two factions which are struggling for possession of little Gue Ting.

The additional evidence in question has taken the shape of a telegram from San Francisco, which announces that Gue Ting's certificate and photograph have been discovered, and that she was registered under the name of Don Kue. If the certificate is genuine, Gue Ting's right to remain in the country cannot be questioned. Inspector Putnam is grimly non-committal concerning the outcome, as he has learned through bitter experience just how unstable a thing is Chinese evidence in time of need.

When Gue Ting fled from her masters and married Quon Lee, the Wong faction declared that she had no certificate, as she had been brought over two months after the time of Chinese registration. The Quons declared that she had been discovered, but that the Wongs had stolen and secreted her certificate, preferring that she should be sent back to China rather than given up to the Quons, of which her newly-wedded husband was a member.

Now it is said by those who are in the inner circle of these intrigues that a compromise will be effected. Cold cash is a powerful salve for wounded pride, and the Wongs are said to have offered to withdraw the information, produce the certificate, and abandon all claim to the girl for a consideration of $800 down. The Quons have offered $200, and have finally risen to $400, but there the matter stands. The whole case has gone over until next Tuesday and little Gue Ting will spend another week in jail.

THE EARLSTON CASE.

DEFENDANT HELD TO ANSWER ON A CHARGE OF RAPE.

Bula Minot, His Alleged Victim, Testifies Against Him—Father and Mother also Called to the Stand, Bonds Fixed at $2500.

Dick Earlston, the aeronaut, was held by Justice Young yesterday to answer to a charge of committing rape on Bula Minot. The examination occupied nearly the entire day, and several witnesses were put on the stand in behalf of the prosecution. Earlston made no defense.

Bula Minot was sworn and testified concerning the details of the alleged offense. She was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by Earlston's attorney, but her testimony was straightforward and unshaken. During her cross-examination the girl broke into tears and the proceedings were interrupted for half an hour. Bula finally stated that Earlston was continually motioning to her not to answer the questions put by the attorneys, and that she could not go on further until he was compelled to desist. Earlston, who has served as Earlston's manager in the balloon business, was also charged by the girl with having continually made threatening gestures toward her while she was testifying. "After the men were 'lectured' by the court, the examination of the witness proceeded."

Upon reassembling after the noon hour, Mrs. Minot, the girl's mother, was called to the stand and closely questioned concerning her daughter's habits and her knowledge of Earlston's relations with her. The testimony of the father, who succeeded Mrs. Minot in the witness stand, was to the same effect. Minot related the story of the girl's absence from home on the night of the assault, of his search and final discovery of her in a room on the following morning in a prostrated condition. "Bula," he said, "had evidently endeavored to hide herself after reaching home."

"When I found her," he said, "she was in a hysterical condition and expressed repeatedly the wish that she were dead. I immediately forced a confession from her and started out to find Earlston. I did not meet him, however, until the night I ran across him coming out of the theater with a woman whom I did not know. I compelled him to accompany me to my home where, he made a complete confession. I told Earlston that I was determined to have him punished, and that if he would not come to my home I would take the law into my own hands."

Earlston's bonds were fixed at $2500, and the case will come up for trial before Judge Smith early in September.

YOUNG DIVORCE CASE.

Still on Trial Before Judge Van Dyke.

The Young divorce suit, involving an original complaint filed by the husband and a counter complaint by the wife, was continued in Judge Van Dyke's court yesterday.

Young gives as his cause for action cruelty and desertion, asserting that during serious illness his wife left him without providing for his care or necessary attention.

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Prosperity is brewing in San Diego. The bay's climate's new brewery's storage capacity is to be doubled, and if he hot wave continues much longer the proprietors think they will have to rebuild and enlarge the entire plant.

San Bernardino is rejoicing over the prospect of the location of some of the Santa Fe offices in that city, said prospect being predicated upon the arrival of several railroad clerks and their search for homes. Good for San Bernardino; and here is another encouraging bit of news that may not be known in that town yet! The car repair shops, now at Albuquerque, are to be removed soon to San Bernardino.

Under the head of "Avalon correspondence," Greater Los Angeles publishes three-fourths of a column of matter regarding the policy of the Banning Company, and the improvements which they have mapped out for the near future. The information is of an interesting character, and the statements made are undoubtedly accurate, considering that they are copied, without the change of a word, from the Avalon correspondence printed in the Times of Wednesday last, in which the first intimation was given of the programme mapped out by the Banning Company for future developments on the island. Another weekly society paper reproduces from a previous issue of the Times, without credit, a description of the cake-walk held at the Metropole Hotel, which contains a "little joke." The pair who won the cake were Miss Jones and Mr. Johnson. Finding it impossible to obtain the initials of Mr. Johnson, both the Times and Herald correspondents agreed to print his name "T. M. (Too Much)" Johnson, and these mysterious initials are faithfully copied by the society sharp of the journal alluded to. Thus is history made. Huh!

The manager of an electric railroad is in a quandary. He says a number of young men wearing badges which bear the single word "Reporter" claim the right to ride free upon his line, and he wants to know if such badges are used in newspaper offices, and if so, how the genuine may be distinguished from the spurious. Such badges are not used in newspaper offices, although occasionally a very young reporter, proud of his place, may make the mistake of wearing a badge. It is a safe rule to assume that the wearer of such a badge is an impostor. The genuine reporter does not claim the right to ride free, and reporters for reputable papers do not ask and are not permitted to ask for free rides or free admission to places of amusement. All Times reporters are provided with credentials, which they are required to show when necessary. A reporter has a right to ride free when he has a pass issued by the railroad company, and not otherwise. There are numerous beats and impostors who pretend to be reporters and demand favors and privileges that are neither asked nor accepted by reputable newspaper men. In the pursuit of news, the reporter is reasonably entitled to some privileges that facilitate his work, but are not personal favors or advantages, but when these are applied for, the reporter can show credentials. Denial of favors to the badge-wearing tumbler is applauded by every decent newspaper and self-respecting reporter.

Society.

The wedding of Miss Olive Morgan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morgan, and Godfrey Storrs of Duarte, took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30, in St. John's Church. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. B. W. K. Taylor, and the full choral service was rendered, with Miss Parley at the organ. The "Bridal Chorus" rendered just before the entrance of the bride party, was followed by the singing of "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," as the altar was approached. The hymn "Pearly Gates" was sung, the close of the ceremony and followed by Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The altar was simply decorated with pink lilies and white carnations. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white figured silk. The long veil was fastened with tuberoses and white carnations and maidenhair ferns were carried. The maid of honor, Miss Beatrice Snow, wore a gown of eau de nil silk and a wide-leghorn hat trimmed with white chiffon and blush roses, and carried pink carnations. A pretty feature of the affair was the group of four little bridesmaids, the Misses Margaret and Dorothy Taylor and Greta and Margery Wyatt, all in yellow silk frocks, with large white hats trimmed with tuberoses. Each little maid carried a small candelabra with a spray of white carnations. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's parents on West Twenty-second street, to a few relatives and friends. Light refreshments were served, for which Christopher catered. The rooms were decorated with white flowers and ivy. A number of handsome gifts were received. After a few days at the beach, Mr. and Mrs. Storrs will reside at Duarte, where they will be at home to their friends after September 1. The bride's going-away gown was of dark green cloth, with waistcoat of pink silk. Her hat was of black lace and pink roses.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Truworthy entertained informally last evening at their residence on South Flower street in honor of Miss Perley of Emporia, Kan. The rooms throughout were lavishly decorated with roses and other flowers, the dining-room being especially pretty with masses of red geraniums. The evening was devoted to whist and music, delightful vocal solos being rendered by Miss Perley and Mr. de Laguna. Besides the guest of honor there were present:

Madames—L. M. Sanford, W. G. Hunt, C. B. Fowler, Norma Sterry, Francis Alexander, Stella Sanford, Bessie Marley, Helen Sinsbaugh, Robert Marsh, Norman Sterry, W. C. Jeffries, George Sinsbaugh, Charles Sanford, W. G. Hunt, Alexander Bush, Dr. Cunningham, James Long.

LARK-ELLEN HOME.

Newsboys' Home Will Henceforth Bear This Name.

The trustees of the News and Working Boys' Home of Los Angeles filed a petition with the County Clerk yesterday asking an order from the Superior Court changing the name of the corporation to the Lark-Allen News and Working Boys' Home. The petitioners state that the home is entirely dependent upon contributions from charitable persons, and that on the 17th of June last a large sum was received from Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, the well-known vocalist, as the proceeds of a musical entertainment given by her for the benefit of the institution. In their petition the trustees state that the aid received from Miss Yaw has enabled them to greatly increase the usefulness of the institution and that the boys have been enabled to enjoy many necessary comforts that otherwise would have been denied them.

As evidence of the appreciation felt for Miss Yaw's generosity it is proposed to have the title of the corporation changed so as to bear her Christian name.

Miss Yaw has shown the most generous and practical interest in this charity, and has by no means limited her work to its benefit to one concert. She has kindly consented to give an annual concert in Los Angeles for the benefit of this home for the homeless which she has kindly named, so that money may not be lacking for the many substantial improvements which she has herself suggested in connection with the work of the home. These suggestions have met with the entire approval of the board of directors, and will be carried into effect as rapidly as the necessary funds can be raised.

Prior to her last visit she intended to sell them, but has now decided not to put them on the market. She likes Tacoma better than Los Angeles, and thinks this is the best place in the country in which to live. She says she could tell when she came into Washington, even though she were blindfolded; the refreshing air of this region makes the climate delightful and distinctive.

FOND OF CHICKENS.

Police Officer Sparks develops the trait of an Ethiopian. Police Officer Sparks is too pronounced a blonde to be suspected of having even the remotest trace of Ethiopian blood in him, yet he has developed a taste for poultry that entitles him to rank with the sons of Ham.

Sparks handles the keys of the City Jail during the day shift, while Jailor Plummer is taking his vacation. Officer John Collins is acting night jailer, and a very mad jailer he was last night. It all came about in this wise: There were fourteen dressed chickens in the larder of the Rock Island Restaurant when Sheriff Burns seized it under a writ of attachment. The law gave out and the Sheriff was afraid the fowl would spoil. To prevent such a waste of good food, he gave seven of the chickens to Police Officer Sawyer to dispose of as he saw fit. Sawyer gave four of them to fellow-officers to take home to cook, and the remaining three he gave to Night Jailor Collins.

Collins ordered the jail chef to cook one for Sawyer's breakfast, one for Day Jailor Sparks, and to keep the other for his (Collins's) lunch the following night.

Sawyer's fowl was ready for him when Jailor Sparks went on duty, but as Sawyer had been sent to the suburbs to subpoena witnesses, he did not return in time to eat the savory mess. Under the circumstances Sparks felt obliged to eat it for him.

The chef next served Sparks's own fowl for dinner, and through some mistake cooked the one reserved for Collins for Sparks's supper. Sparks had all three chickens under his belt when he handed the keys over to Collins yesterday evening.

That is why Jailor Collins thinks Jailor Sparks is a mean man, if not a descendant of Ham.

BOXING TONIGHT.

Jeffries Will Meet Long in a Six-round Bout.

The name of the "unknown," who is to box with big Jim Jeffries at the exhibition in Hazard's Pavilion tonight, has been announced as Long. Long is the man over whom Jeffries gained his first victory about two years ago. He is as big as Jeffries and is a skillful boxer, and his employment as assistant instructor at the Athletic Club keeps him in good condition. Long is said to be the best man available to bring out the capabilities of Jeffries and make a good exhibition with him.

The entertainment will open with a battle royal between four husky and enthusiastic darkeys. All will be in the ring at the same time, and the winner of the battle will be the man who whips the other three. This will be more of a roaring comedy than a battle. The contestants in the other events will be Lemon and Dee, Steele and Rowe, Hennessy and Ryan, Griffin and Burns.

After this exhibition Jeffries will begin training for his battle with Choyenski on October 14, which he hopes to win. He will train here two weeks, and then go north with Delaney and buckle down to hard work. He will have to be in good condition to defeat Choyenski, and if he succeeds he says he will challenge Fitzsimmons. Jeffries is on the way to the top, and his friends hope he will take care of himself and avoid the pitfalls which Sullivan and other big fellows have fallen.

Militia at a Hanging.

FAYETTEVILLE (W. Va.) Aug. 24.—Gov. Atkinson has ordered a company of militia to prevent the alleged attempt to rescue Jerry Brown from hanging this afternoon. Four hundred negroes are said to be encamped in the woods near the scaffold erected for the purpose of preventing the execution, claiming that Brown should be allowed to live until Voires, who escaped, is recaptured.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Southern California Literature for Northern Ports and Alaska. The Immigration Committee, composed of Messrs. Duque, Woolwine, Kays, H. O'Melveny and T. E. Gibson, met yesterday afternoon at the chamber, to confer with Judge Silen, and after considerable debate decided to recommend to the board of directors of the chamber, that a pamphlet in the interests of Southern California be published and sent to the northern ports and Alaska.

Recent contributions to the chamber include late Crawford peaches of mammoth size, orange cling and Muir peaches, Hungarian prunes and Kelsey Japan plums, from E. C. Thompson of Pasadena; globe and orange cling peaches and passion-vine fruit, from C. P. Taft of Orange; apples from J. W. Kennard of Ventura; Kelsey Japan plums from H. C. Porter of Eagle Rock, and a case of olive oil from Akerman and Tuftley, San Diego, made from the fruit of the oldest olive grove in Southern California, that at the San Diego Mission. Secretary Wiggins asserts that the oil surpasses anything of the kind ever exhibited before in the Chamber. The San Diego Chamber of Commerce has sent up a literal olive branch covered with fruit.

POLICE COURT.

Effects of the Hot Wave Still Felt by Thirsty Souls.

Eighteen "drunk" cases encumbered the Police Court docket yesterday, which goes to show that the hot wave continues to make business for the saloons. The court dealt leniently with the hot-weather victims, light fines being imposed in most instances, or a few days' imprisonment. Such old-timers as Pat Garrity, were among the prisoners in the dock.

Ed Smith, a husky colored youth, was found guilty of disturbing the peace by interfering with Deputy Constable Quinn while the latter was yanking a mischievous boy out of the gallery of the Orpheum Theater during Monday evening's performance. Smith will be sentenced today.

Gee Wan was fined $5 for violating the building ordinance, and Oscar Lewis $1 for peddling without license.

Lewis had demanded a jury, but yielded to the good advice of Bailiff Appel, waived the jury and was let off easy by the court.

The complaint against W. A. Convery, charged by his brother with disturbing the peace, was dismissed.

Selling At Cost.

It is a significant fact that people who are well informed in jewelry—those who have shopped in the large eastern cities and in the capitals of the old world—have been the first to respond to our "Selling at Cost" advertising. The more jewelry wisdom the greater appreciation of WHOLE SALE COST PRICES when offered by a reliable and conservative establishment.

The ticket showing the original price—which has always been marked in plain figures—will remain on each article, and a new ticket will be attached, marked in red, showing the reduced price. This is the original wholesale cost.

John Dillon, the Actor.

COL NATE REED, Editor of the "Banner of Gold," says: "One morning I noticed in the line at Dwight a snow-haired gentleman, whom I had not seen for several years, and, though he has since then pursued his profession, which is recognized as abounding with temptations to indulge in stimulants, still he is able to write as follows:"

5063 LAKE AVE., CHICAGO, July 12, 1897. MY DEAR COL REED:—In a recent issue of THE BANNER OF GOLD you expressed a wish to hear from some of those who had been in line with you at Dwight in the summer of '91, and who, like yourself, had been made well and happy by Dr. Keeley's Remedy.

It gives me great pleasure, my dear Colonel, to say that I was one of those blessed mortals in the ranks at that time, and graduated from there June 25, 1891, just five days after you had been sent forth a new man.

What words, Mr. Reed, can express my gratitude to Dr. Leslie E. Keeley? None in my vocabulary. Hoping that while we live it may be our good fortune to exchange those greetings "in good standing" and wishing you and Mrs. Reed happy days and good health, I remain,

"In Bonds of Gold," JOHN DILLON.
